Osmosis Med is a visual learning platform that helps medical students and clinicians master complex concepts quickly with short, illustrated videos and high-yield study tools, so learning is faster, clearer, and sticks.

Osmosis AI is an integrated conversational study partner that blends Osmosis' visuals with content to turn questions into clear explanations and personalized, evidence-based study support—boosting confidence and exam performance. This new conversational AI-powered feature supports learning & teaching with visually engaging content that helps medical students learn more effectively
